Meditation – Grief

Grief cannot be shared, for it is mine alone.
 Grief is a dvinø within me,
 a øreat emntiness,
 a frjøhteningø void,
 It is loneliness,
 a sickeningø sorrow at night,
 on awakeningø a terrible dread,
 Another's words do not help,
 A reasoned argøment explains little for havinø tried too much.
 Silence is the best response to another's ørief.
 Not the silence that is a nause in speech, awkward and unwanted,
 but one that unites heart to heart.
 Love, sneakinø in silence, is the way into the void of another's ørief
 The best of all loves come silently and slowly too, to soften the pain of grief, and begin to dispel the sadness
 It is the love of God, warm and true, which will touch the grieving heart and heal it.
 He looks at the ørievinø nerson and has pity,
 for ørief is a øreat pain
 He came among us to learn about ørief and much else too, this Man of Sorrows.
 He knows, He understands Grief will yield to peace - in time. Amen
